MODIFICATION OF WAR TAX PLANNED.

House Committee on Ways and Means May Slice Off Fifteen Million Dollars.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Nov. 19.—When the Republican members of the House Committee on Ways and Means meet to-morrow to take up the question of reducing the war revenue taxes the Treasury Department will be ready to furnish information as to any amount of reduction that the committee may desire to make. In addition to the data bearing on the proposed reduction of $15,000,000, which is favored by the Treasury Department and some of the members of the committee, data will be supplied for cuts of various amounts up to $20,000,000.

If any considerable reduction above $15,000,000 should be determined upon it is probable that the beer tax will be one of those cut down, though it is not probable that it will in any case be reduced as low as $1 per barrel again. A rate that may be recommended by the Treasury Department is $1.50 per barrel, without any rebate. If the reduction is to be in the neighborhood of $15,000,000, it will be brought about partly by the repeal of the proprietary stamp taxes, amounting to about $5,000,000 per year; the telephone and express taxes, amounting to about $2,000,000 per year. The remainder will be made up principally by the repeal of the stamp taxes on notes and mortgages, but several other stamp taxes will also be included. These will be taxes that are particularly onerous on account of their annoying character, and which do not produce large amounts of revenue, including certificates of various kinds and warrants for the collection of warehouse receipts is one which has been particularly onerous, and has greatly reduced the business of storage warehouses.

KERENS MAY RECEIVE REWARD OF FIDELITY.

Washington Times Says He Will Probably Step Into Secretary Hitchcock's Shoes.

LATTER EXPECTED TO RESIGN.

Missouri Committeeman Has Vast Influences Working in His Favor—Was Faithful to McKinley, Though Humiliated by Him.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The Washington Times has the following gossip about the possibility of Colonel R. C. Kerens entering the President's Cabinet after March 4:

"Will Richard C. Kerens succeed the Honorable Ethan Allen Hitchcock as Secretary of the Interior after March 4? That is a question that is in the minds of many men at this moment.

It is true that the President has invited all the members of his Cabinet to remain with him through the next administration, but people who know a hawk from a heron are aware that this does not signify either that Mr. McKinley does not desire to make some changes in his official household or that he would not call to his aid new advisers even if his magnanimous invitation should be accepted by all of those to whom it was made.

It is alleged, for example, that when the President, with that was described at the time as 'great feeling,' extended the invitation to the members of the Cabinet, he knew that his Attorney General, the Honorable John W. Griggs, had determined to quit the public service and resume his large and lucrative private practice in New Jersey.

It is also said that at the same time he also knew that his Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Hitchcock, had decided to retire from public life and devote himself, with renewed energy and the advantage of a better acquaintance with the details of the business, to the interests of the Glass Trust.

This combination was formed by Mr. Hitchcock a short while before Mr. McKinley's first election, and it was the shrewd business ability displayed by the Glass Trust in the organization of the trust which recommended him to the President for a prominent place in the public service.

Mr. Hitchcock was snatched suddenly from his counting-room in St. Louis and the unexpected surprise of all the Republicans in Missouri, Mr. Kerens among them, after serving his country with distinction at the Court of the Interior Department and some of the members of the committee, data will be supplied for cuts of various amounts up to $20,000,000.

If any considerable reduction above $15,000,000 should be determined upon it is probable that the beer tax will be one of those cut down, though it is not probable that it will in any case be reduced as low as $1 per barrel again. A rate that may be recommended by the Treasury Department is $1.50 per barrel, without any rebate.

STILL OPPOSED TO ANNEXATION.

Supreme Court Decision in Kirkwood Case Does Not End the Fight in Webster Groves.

TAXES TO BE WITHHELD.

Residents of Outlying Districts Will Force Authorities to Appeal to the Courts—Conference on Subject.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Residents of the district annexed by the city of Webster Groves in 1897 declare, despite the contrary impression produced by the decision of the Supreme Court, handed down last Wednesday, that the fight made and continued by them for the last three years, to have the annexation set aside is not ended.

Last Thursday afternoon a meeting of a committee of citizens representing the association was held in Old Orchard, at the home of the president of the association, J. D. Wilson. There were present, besides Mr. Wilson, W. G. Steinhilber, O. P. Chamberlain, S. D. Van Nort, Samuel Kilpatrick, John M. Steinhilber, and A. S. Bowers. The decision handed down by Missouri's Supreme Court was discussed and the matter referred to C. S. Reber, the lawyer and first instigator of the fight against annexation. Yesterday Mr. Reber telephoned Mr. Wilson that there was still legal ground upon which to successfully combat the legality of Webster Groves' extension.

Mr. Wilson made the following statement yesterday in regard to the present status of affairs:

"The verdict of the Supreme Court leaves no doubt as to the legality of the original incorporation in 1896 of Webster Groves as a city of the fourth class. As a legal body the town has the right to annex adjacent territory, but the presumption is that such annexation will be done in a reasonable and equitable manner. In a dozen instances which we can name the 'imperialistic' policy of Webster, undertaken in 1897, was not conducted reasonably and equitably. The case in court was based on the first instance, and has no relation to the points involved in the annexation.

In advance of the case in court, city taxes have been withheld for the last three years by residents outside the old city limits. The taxes in the annexed territory, which is 224 strong, say that these taxes will still be withheld.

John M. Steinhilber stated one instance of the alleged 'imperialistic' course taken by Webster Groves in the annexation. He claimed that property was taken in but that much improved property was taken in two roads, which outline the front or rear of his premises, were left out. The subject was sound by you, and it is no benefit as to lighting or water.

A general meeting of the association will be held next Saturday night in the Royal Arcanum Hall in Old Orchard.
